Personal Statement: I've had the privilege of living all over the country and have finally found a place to call home in Triana. When my family moved here in 2009, I was instantly drawn to the small town, quiet atmosphere and the ability to walk out in the backyard and see the beautiful sky at night. In my six years of living here I've come to see how much our residents genuinely care for our community and want it to succeed and grow.
